APPLETON CRESCENT.

"THE UNION, THE CONSTITUTION, AND THE ENFORCEMENT OF ITS LAWS."

BY RYAN & BROTHER. CITY OF APPLETON, OUTAGAMIE COUNTY, WISCONSIN, SATURDAY, JULY 18, 1863. VOL. XI, NO. 4.

Fay & Humphrey's Muse.

Though not yet the smoke of battle
Clears along our Southern sky;
Though the cannon thunders rattle,
And the lightnings flash on high!
And though still our dauntless legions
March to conquer or to die:

Yet for those who stay behind them,
(Ready when their turns shall come,
To oppose, where'er they find them,
All the foe's of Freedom's home;)
Every common need of mortals
Must as ever be supplied—
CLOTHING must be had to shelter
From chill blasts or hot noontide.

Care to please you unabating,
With their olden sign unfurled,
Fay & Humphrey still are waiting,
To supply a costless world.
Men and boys, whate'er your nation,
Size, complexion, taste, may be,
Come, from every rank and station,
Just, YOUR STYLE you quick shall see:
Suits, for Spring and Summer wearing,
Ready-Made, shall please your eye—
You that were just now despairing,
Come to the "PEOPLE'S EXCHANGE" and buy.

Or if still you've not assented,
CUSTOM CLOTHS await your choice,
Every style is represented—
Look! and let your hearts rejoice.
You are pleased? This way—allow me—
Walk up stairs, and in a trice,
They will measure you for what shall
Make you look so very nice,
That your very wife won't know you
Till you've spoken to her twice.

Pause a moment in departing—
Downward glance with questioning air—
Pardon! but that boot is starting—
Just select another pair.
In few varied forms to mention,
Ranged along the groaning shelves:
BOOTS and SHOES now claim attention—
Let them answer for themselves.
Ladies, by sad visions haunted,
Of a bootless search for boots,
Here, at last, may stand enchanted:
We've some style, at least, that suits
Everybody, maid or matron,
Howso'er her choice may fall
Upon shoe, or graceful slipper,
Congress boot, or balmoral.

HATS and CAPS of faultless fashion,
You shall see before you go—
Try that Burnside. That's becoming!
Or this, named for "Fighting Joe,"
"Fighting Joe" who lends our armies,
And will lead them through, you know.

Shirts, and Hose, and Ties, and Collars,
Gloves, from buckskin to white kid;
Rubber Goods for stormy weather,
All a careful choice has hid.
Satchels, Cutlery, Umbrellas:
But we cannot tell you all—
Come and see us, everybody;
They will surely buy, who call.

DELIVERED IN THE COLLEGE CHAPEL BY PREST. R. Z. MASON, ON THE DEATH OF HATTIE A. BATES. DIED MAY 23D, 1863. AGED 15 YEARS.

TEXT.—Job XVII Chapter XI Verse:

My days are past. My thoughts are broken off; even the thoughts of my heart.

This is the language of affliction. It is the language of grief and disappointment. The plans of life which this eminent patriarch had formed had signally failed to be realized. He had accustomed himself to look forward to long years of prosperity and happiness. He had been possessor for a long time of all the material resources necessary for happiness. He had flocks, herds homes, lands, money, friends, children and all the honors that fell to the lot of one of the most illustrious patriarchs. Job was rich, honored and happy. He was a man of large experience, of extensive knowledge and mature wisdom. He was a man of a noble nature, of exalted virtue and high intellectual endowments. Such a man did not live a purposeless life. He had his plans for the future. His thoughts doubtless ramified every great interest known among men. He was living for his age, his country and his race. These plans of his were not mere idle dreams, they were not the shadowy phantoms of a night's fancy, the unsubstantial visions of a wayward, undisciplined mind. But they were the sober resolutions and well wrought plans of a man who had well considered his position, his means of usefulness and his responsibilities. But from all these Job was broken off. His favorite pursuits and avocations he was allowed no longer to follow. His associations were interrupted—his friends had become alienated—his property had been plundered and destroyed—his children had suddenly died, and even his reputation for veracity and honesty was greatly distracted by the few remaining friends who came to comfort him. He looked around himself and beheld the desolation that reigned where but a short time before all was cheerful and promising. The contrast saddened his heart. He was afflicted, stricken. His heart was broken. Life was a blank and death desirable. But what is the lesson which the history of Job furnishes us?

1st. That losses and misfortunes are not always retributive. They may often or even generally have another meaning and import. The position taken by Job's friends was the opposite of the proposition here maintained. They fancied that they saw in the uncommon weight of his afflictions evidence of uncommon depravity and were bold to accuse him of the deepest hypocrisy and guilt. They were exactly in that stage of Spiritual Illumination where it seemed that their highest ideal of piety was a being who took pleasure in visiting the transgressor with the heaviest doom of vengeance. To their purblind optics sorrow could compass no end in the economy of Divine Government except to expose the guilt of the offender and satisfy the justice of a violated law. Job's friends had never learned by experience or otherwise that grief softens and subdues the heart—that it arrests and tames the passions and develops in us a higher spiritual state—just as the gentle rains of heaven soften and subdue the soil and fit it for its vast vegetable burdens. These confident and sometime conceited friends of Job had probably had a pretty successful career through life and they had never come to an appreciation of the sublime Christian Philosophy of St. Paul where he says, "For our light affliction which is but for a moment worketh out for us a far more exceeding and eternal weight of glory." They were in that melancholy atmosphere of religious life and experience where all the sterner dispensations of Providence were looked upon as the "goad to prick" in reaching the unhappy victim the "rod of heaven." But Job took a more cheerful and consistent view of God's mysterious dealings with him. Whatever his friends might think or suspect he knew that he was an innocent man. He might have been totally unable to see through the mystery of his intense sufferings—he could not perhaps give to his friends a satisfactory solution of the dark problem before him—his mind was enshrouded in the midst of a denser cloud than perhaps ever settled before on human head, yet he had a clear and most decided consciousness that he was not thus stricken down to earth because he was a wicked man. On that point his logic bore conclusive testimony.

While, therefore, the conclusion is fully warranted that what we suffer in this life of disappointment and disaster is not the immediate retribution for our guilt yet it must not be forgotten that these grievous dispensations of Providence are monitory in their character. They are designed to admonish us that we live in a world of law where every offence, no matter how slight or how innocently committed will in some way leave its mark on our character and its influence in determining our destiny. God in the wise and beneficent administration of his laws, designs to teach us to respect the conditions of our being—the circumstances in which he has placed us—to instruct us in the principles of a wise and paternal Government and to educate us up to a full knowledge of those eternal statutes stereotyped everywhere upon the face of nature throughout his vast empire. This kind of divine visitation is the wise and humane visitation of the teacher upon the pupil—of the father upon the child, all done in order that he may be so trained in the school of life as to be able to take care of himself and pass through the career of being successfully. In this department of the Divine Government the law of God is inexorable. There is no yielding. A law violated have has written on it as its penalty "failure of success." If, for instance, we fail to comply with the essential conditions on which is secured, viz: economy, industry and enterprise, we shall never attain that wealth. If we fail to fulfill the conditions on which knowledge and mental discipline are secured we shall continue to be ignorant, intellectual imbeciles, the victims of every man who has less conscience and more knowledge and power than we have. Or if we expect health to be maintained or life to be preserved by a persistent and presumptuous disregard of all the principles of Physiology and all the maxims of prudence or the suggestions of common sense, we shall find that God will administer to us the wholesome but bitter lesson that his laws must be faithfully respected and obeyed or the inevitable results of sickness and death will follow. Even our ignorance of the Science of Medicine or our inability to procure remedies will not save us. God has ordained that we must learn our wants and our remedies or pay the forfeit. But wisely and kindly has He ordained that what we may suffer by such inexorable agencies shall yet minister to our improvement and happiness. This was Job's confidence. This shall be ours. Job realized that there was something antimely in the death of his family. And is it not so with us to day? Does not a gracious Providence, which has created, design to preserve? There is something sad and mournful in the death of the young. They are buried away, not only from a scene of useful and necessary trial where in the struggles of existence their faculties are to be matured and perfected, but also from those genial and delightful associations with which old civilized and christian society abounds. They are rudely interrupted amid the innocent pleasures and amusements peculiar to their age and circumstances. The beginnings of our existence here are full of vitality, hope, promise and joy. So many new objects and so congenial and untried relations constantly press themselves on our attention and demand recognition of their untried qualities, that we become excited, pleased and almost enraptured, as with a vision of enchantment. Death, who thus ruthlessly invades the circles of the fair and young, is at best an unwelcome visitor. He has a hard name among us mortals. We have bestowed on him most unlovely epithets. We have always attributed to him qualities of the most revolting kind. We paint him as a monster—a hideous skeleton without muscle, blood, color, life or beauty; but simply as endowed with an infernal, malignant spirit and a force undiminished from age to age to do mischief, to rupture society, to break hearts and scatter families. But this is not the true Christian idea of death. This is a barbarian view, not a Christian. The survivors probably see the worst and most repulsive features of that strange and most mysterious process which we call death. We see the emaciated feverstricken patient tossed and agitated on his uneasy couch. We feel the hastening pulse as it sends its fiery floods to the brain and disturbs the equilibrium of the nervous system and prostrates the reason. We watch the flushed cheek and languid eye of the smitten invalid. We hear the dying groan as the sufferer's frame is convulsed by the efforts of the spirit to re-assert dominion over a body no longer fit for the residence of the immortal part; and we witness the last quivering of the exhaverous lips as the vital spark takes its leave of a form once beautiful with intelligence, life and health; but now made loathsome by disease and revolting to our senses by the cold grasp of death. Now all this may transpire while the poor sufferer is hardly conscious that any change is taking place, and if he be conscious that the walls of his tenement are crumbling to atoms still perhaps that change is desired in hope of future relief from present suffering. But it is almost capable of demonstration that in the mere fact of physical dissolution, when the very verge of life is reached, little or no pain is experienced. We probably never come to the fact of death till we have passed the suffering point. The vital forces must have ebbed too nearly out before the last moment arrives to allow of much suffering or any consciousness of it.

But could we now draw aside the material curtain that intercepts our spiritual vision; could we see death with noiseless hand turn the ivory key that unlocks the golden gateways to another life; could we penetrate with our vision the dim and murky atmosphere of our material life and see into that realm of soft and glorious beauty that tints with its prismatic hues the summer land; could we breathe the balmy atmosphere radient with the golden gleams of immortal light and redolent with the sweet breath of heaven's vast and varied effluvences; could we hear the silver songs of that unearthly melody—those grand and unspeakable words which it is not lawful for mortal lips to utter; could we read the vast and flowery plains of that kingdom whose laws are perfect love; could we, in fine, know what new, varied and ample sources of joy and entertainment, of refined and exalted pleasures the human spirit may enter upon when it leaves its dark prison house, if we realized that so sublime a scene were broken off new ones were formed, would death be the unwelcome intruder he now is? Still it must never be forgotten that it is a high privilege to live through this material existence as long as the machinery of nature will wear.

There are great purposes to be realized in connection with this world of matter which every soul will be benefitted by realizing. Life is a blessing—even long life is a blessing greatly to be desired. But it is a blessing of which our young friend who has just gone before us has been deprived. We would not say that our loss was not her gain. Almost before she had reached the outer verge of childhood has she been called away. She is the second one of that large army of youth who have trod the sacred halls of learning and science for the past nine years against whose name we must make the mournful record, "died by sickness." One other young lady while a member of the school died nine years ago. A young man was drowned in the river seven years since. These three comprise the list of mortality which has occurred out of near 3,000 pupils for the past nine years, or since I have been connected with the Institution. Sad and mournful as are our reflections to-day yet we have great reason to thank God for the general good health that has prevailed among so large a body of youth. But to-day the pupil, the fellow-student, the classmate, is gone. A seat is vacant at home, a seat is vacant here. A little circle is interrupted there, a larger one here, for death has borne his victim to the realms of the invisible. First came the sad news that a brother had fallen among our country's defenders—soon followed the dreadful assurance that a sister had followed his footsteps. Thus we see one after another, over the theatre of a short life on which hang immense responsibilities and in which are crowded eternal interests. We do well then to remember the language of the poet, who says:

No joy is true, save that which hath no end,
No life is true, save that which liveth ever,
No health is sound, save that which God doth send,
No love is real, save that which changeth never.

General Cass.

This venerable statesman in reply to an invitation to attend a meeting of the democracy of Washington county, Pa., makes use of the following significant language:

I have come to look with almost as much solicitude upon the action of the democratic party in its primary meetings as for the result of the conflict at arms: for the reason that it is now clear that the perpetuity of our present form of government rests on the patriotism, intelligence, forbearance and consistent course of action by the democratic party. The Jacobins and radicals who are leading spirits of the political party in power seem quite as intent on destroying our civil rights as in whipping the rebels into subjection. It is our duty to insist on the preservation intact of the form of government, established in 1780, and that the territorial limits of the nation shall never be diminished. To attain this end we must see that the government is not allowed to fall to pieces. We must hold the executive agents of the government to their duty, and keep them in their duty, until we can, by means of the ballot-box, put in their stead those who will administer the government as it was framed by our ancestors.

HERE is a fact stated by the Philadelphia Age:

"There are three regiments that have lately been preparing for the State defence. Two are democratic and one is republican. Colonel Charles J. Biddle's democratic regiment secured six hundred men in twenty-four hours. Colonel Alfred Day's coal regiment, also democratic, secured seventeen hundred in two days. The Union League has been drumming for a week, with all the aid of money and position, and its regiment is still a skeleton. The people know who is with them, and where to find their best officers."

The colonies of Great Britain cover not less than 3,350,000 square miles, and to govern and to manage them costs the British nation five dollars for every mile. These colonies have an aggregate revenue of fifty-five million dollars, and they owe in all the total income of two years and a half. The population is under ten millions, of whom five millions are whites. This estimate does not, of course, include India. But if this is reckoned, it results, the Spectator assures us, that the British Queen reigns over nearly one-third of the land of the earth, and nearly a fourth of its population.

Dr. Peters, who killed the rebel Gen Van Dorn, has gone South to stand his trial.

He who preaches war, is a fit chaplain for the devil.—Horace Mann.

Longest Down-Hill in the World.

The BHORE GHAUT—a down-hill, fifteen and a-half miles long—is thus described in the Albion:—"A highly important railway communication has been opened in the Bombay Presidency. This communication brings the high lands of the Deccan—two thousand feet above the sea level—into close connection with the low lands of the Presidency, and with the town to Bombay itself, converting the Deccan into a kind of suburban district for the citizens. The BHORE GHAUT INCLINE of the Great Indian Peninsula Railway has occupied more than seven years in construction; and during the greater part of that time there have been forty-five thousand workmen daily employed upon it. The incline is a series of tunnels through mountains of rock, and viaducts stretching across valleys, alternating with each other; each part a triumph of modern science and skill. The incline reacher at one long lift the height of one thousand eight hundred thirty-two feet the highest elevation yet attained by any railway incline. It is fifteen and a-half miles long, and its average gradient consequently one in 46:30.—The highest gradient is one in thirty-seven, and the sharpest curve fifteen chains radius. The tunnels are twenty-five in number, the greatest length of any of them being three hundred and forty-one and a-half yards. There are eight viaducts, one consisting of eight arches of fifty feet, and being one hundred and twenty-nine feet high, and another of a like number of archer with a maximum height of one hundred and forty-three feet. The quantity of cutting amounts to two million and sixty-seven thousand seven hundred and thirty-eight cubic yards, and of embankments to two million four hundred and fifty-two thousand three hundred and eight cubic yards. There are twenty-two bridges of various spans, and seventy-four culverts. The total cost of the works has been one million one hundred thousand pounds sterling, or sixty-eight thousand seven hundred and fifty pounds a mile."

Qualified for the Office:

The buxom, bright-eyed, full breasted, bouncing lass—who can darn a stocking, mend trousers, make her own frock, command a regiment of pots and kettles, feed the pigs, milk the cows, and be a lady withal in company—is just the sort of a girl for a young man to marry: but you, ye pining, lolling, screwed up, wasp-wasted, doll-dressed, putty-faced, consumption-mortgaged, music-murdering, novel-devouring daughters of fashion and illeness—you are no more fit for matrimony than a pullet is to look after a family of fourteen chickens.

THE LOYAL LEAGUE ILLUSTRATED.—In a town not far from Hartford, the day after the late storm, a lady with two children was driving her carriage along the muddy road, and coming to a bridge one wheel broke through. The horse was uneasy and the lady frightened. Indeed she and her children were in danger. The Lady wore the ribbon badge of the Loyal League. A good natured Irishman came along in good time, and taking the horse from the shafts, he lifted the wagon from the hole and harnessed up the animal again leaving the lady and little ones safe beyond the bridge. She began to thank the kind hearted Irishman, when he politely tipped his slouched hat, and said pleasantly: "Don't spake to me plase, madam: you're of the Loyal League and I'm a true Seymour Democrat: you can't spake to me, I see by your ribbons—them kind of folk musen't talk to Democrats or have anything to them. Good morning to you madam: God bless ye, and may the light of day never more shine upon the trouble that would come near ye. But don't hurt yourself in speaking to me please." Bowing politely he passed on.

The lady opened her eyes tore of the badge of the "Loyal League," and would'nt put on another for the world.

EXEMPTION MONEY.—The Secretary of War has decided to accept three hundred dollars as an exemption fee from any one who may be drafted under the conscription act. The Secretary of the Treasury has accordingly given instructions to the Commissioners of Internal Revenue in each congressional district to receive the money and grant certificates of exemption. When one is drafted, all that is required to be done is to pay the commissioner, get a certificate and produce it before the board of enrollment, when notified to appear for duty.—Mil. News.

DECLARED UNCONSTITUTIONAL.—The judiciary of New Hampshire have declared that the soldier's voting proposition which had been passed by the republican legislature of that state, is opposed to the spirit and letter of the constitution, as well as common law, which requires the presence of the voter at the polls. Several practical objections to the bill are also mentioned in the opinion. The opinion is signed by chief justice BELL, and associate justices BELLOWS, NESMITH and BARTLETT.—Mil. News.

Missouri has adopted the gradual emancipation scheme, by which slavery is to cease in that state, from and after 1870.

PLEASANT BEDFELLOWS.—A diary of a prisoner of war contains the following suggestive incident;

"Becoming drowsy, I borrowed a blanket, went into the depot, and finding a vacant place between two prostrate forms, dropped down to rest, and was soon lost in forgetfulness. I have no knowledge of how long I slept, but getting cold, I partially awoke, and hunching my right hand partner, requested him to roll over and spoon. He made no reply, and giving him a tremendous thump, I again besought him to spoon, but it was no go. Turning on my other side, I shook my other bedfellow and made the same request. He too paid no heed to my desire. Exasperated at what I considered his unaccomodating spirit, I determined to bring matters to a crisis. Drawing up my left leg, I gave him a most unmerciful kick, but he was as immovable as the rock of ages. I was now thoroughly awake. Jumping up, I turned down the blankets, on one hand then on the other, and by the dim firelight beheld on either a corpse. My nap was finished. In the morning I learned that they were rebel dead, brought down from Murfreesboro for burial at Chattanooga.

REPUBLICAN ATTACK UPON ARCHBISHOP HUGHES.—John W. Forney, in one of his "Occasional" letters to the Philadelphia Press, makes the following attack upon a highly respected and popular Catholic Bishop. He says:

"From this the inference is clear that Archbishop Hughes has no desire at all to hide the immense political power included in his high priestly office. Were Mr. Lincoln a Roman, the Archbishop of New York might possibly aspire to become his Richelieu."

The object of this is to revive antipathy to our Catholic fellow citizens.

A GOOD CLIP OF WOOL.—P. S. Markham, of Pleasant Spring, sheared, last week his flock of ewes and weathers, numbering 64, and obtained the large amount of 400 lbs of washed wool, averaging 6¼ pounds per head. The lightest fleece was 2 lbs., the heaviest 9½ lbs. The sheep are French, with a slight mixture of Spanish. Who can beat this?—Madison Journal.

Some persons, more zealous than wise, asked the President to permit Gens. Fremont and Sigel to raise an army in New York for the defense of Pennsylvania. The President replied that the business of calling out and forwarding the militia of that State belonged to Gov. Seymour.

As Generals Fremont and Sigel voluntarily left the service, we do not see the profit of continually agitating their return to it. Generals cannot reasonably expect to dictate to the Government conditions under which they will serve it.—Oconto Pioneer (Rep).

A WOODEN LIBRARY.—An odd work is being carried on for exhibition at the Permanent Industrial Exposition in Vienna. It is a wooden library, that is, a hundred octavo volumes, the covers of which are formed of wood; the backs of bark, inscribed with the names of the trees they are made from; and the interiors of specimens of the leaves, flowers, fruits, etc., of the trees.

GEN. MEADE is a tall, slim, gray bearded man. He wears glasses, an old slouched hat, a blue blouse, with corduroy pants tucked into his long jack boots. He is ungainly in looks and actions, plain in speech, familiar and free in conversation when not occupied with business.

GEN. MEADE, the new leader of the Army of the Potomac, is the grandson of George Meade, of Philadelphia, an eminent Irish-American merchant, whose firm (Meade & Fitzsimmons) contributed in 1781 $10,000 to a fund for the relief of the famishing army of Gen. Washington.

CONVERSATION AT PROVIDENCE.—Patriotic, but sarcastic countrymen to gentleman, "I say, are these hospital tents?" City gent, "These, oh, no: these are the recruiting tents." Countrymen, "Ah! I thought they were small-pox tents, I see people avoid them so."

SOME idea of the golden wealth of Colorado Territory may be gained from the fact that a single claim of seventy feet is capable of producing, with the improved machinery now in use, nearly half a million dollars' worth of gold per annum.

IOWA.—Hon. Maturin L. Fisher has been nominated by the democracy for governor.

The New York Times says that, after the battle of Chancellorsville, Gen Meade's appointment to the command of the Potomac army was urged by every corps commander, with, perhaps, a single exception. The officer next in rank to Gen. Hooker (Gen. Couch) was among the number who urged General Meade's appointment.

I heard a good thing one evening at a party. A Miss Joy was present, and in the course of the evening some one used the quotation, "A thing of beauty is a joy forever," when she exclaimed, "Oh, I'm glad I'm not a beauty, for I shouldn't like to be a Joy forever."

Odds and Ends.

A man died recently in Liverpool, aged one hundred and one years. The family of which he was a member was remarkable for longevity, his maternal grandmother having lived to the age of one hundred and three, his mother to one hundred, and his sister to ninety-two years. His brother is nearly ninety years old.

The Brooklyn Star, after an existence of fifty-four years, suspended publication last week for the lack of adequate support. The British American Medical Journal, published in Montreal, and the "American Medical Monthly," published in New York, wound up their issues with the close of the year 1862.

A Boiler burst in a machine shop at St. Louis on the 29th, killing three men and dangerously wounding a number more. Such was the force of the explosion that the roof of the building was blown to pieces and the walls levelled.

The wheat harvest has commenced in Illinois, and the crops turn out to be very heavy.

The peach harvest at St. Joseph, Mich., will be enormous this season, if nothing unforseen occurs. It is estimated by competent judges, that at least 300,000 baskets will be marketed.

The Grand League of Railroad Farm Mortgagors, held its annual session in Milwaukee, last Tuesday week. The meeting passed resolutions solemnly pledging the members to stand shoulder to shoulder in resisting the collection of the mortgages until some just and equitable settlement, (as they say) can be agreed upon.

Experiments have shown that a man's finger nails grow their complete length in four months and a half. A man living seventy years, renews his nails one hundred and eighty-six times.—Allowing each nail to be a half an inch long, he has grown seven feet and nine inches of finger nail, on each finger, and on fingers and thumbs an aggregate of seventy-seven feet and six inches.

We like fine writing when it is properly applied: so we appreciate the following burst of eloquence in one of our exchanges: "As the ostrich nicks both legs and wings when the Arabian courser bounds in her rear—as the winged lightnings leap from the heavens when the thunderbolts are loosed, so does a little negro run when a big dog is after him."

Mr. Geo. S. Hillard, of Boston, one of the most accomplished men of his time, a friend of Webster and of Choate, a whig of the straightest sect, and a patriot of the purest, in a letter to the New York Academy of Music meeting, uses this significant language:

I have never been a member of the democratic party, but I am convinced that there is now no hope of ending this deplorable war and restoring the Union but by and through that party.

Prof Whitney, the state geologist of California, among the Sierra Nevadas found, about two hundred feet above the level of Ocean, an almost perfect jaw of a rhinoceros. Huge petrified oystershells were also found among the mountains of the interior and at a great elevation.

A man by the name of Tiemin was seriously injured on the 4th at Beloit by the premature discharge of the cannon.

The missing of the 4th regiment in the assault upon Port Hudson, twenty-four in number, have been heard from. Three died of wounds, eighteen remained prisoners, and three escaped, among them Corporal Earl, who was promoted on the spot to a lieutenancy by Gen. Banks, for gallantry and valuable services.

A correspondent of the New York World writes, that on the banks of the levee opposite Vicksburg, he walked two miles on the newly made graves of Federal soldiers, over two thousand of whom died of disease, and were buried there during the short period of high water, when no other dry ground could be found for a grave.

Those who have proclaimed for a year past that "crinoline" is going out of fashion are mistaken. An English journal informs us that during the past year, 1862, 4,890,000 pounds weight of steel springs were devoted to this manufacture in France, and one half of that quantity in England.

That veteran American missionary to Turkey, Rev. Dr. Goodell, has just completed the translation of the scriptures into Armeno-Turkish, which having been thoroughly revised is now ready for publication. This indefatigable laborer has been the great work and the joyful work of his life among the spiritually benighted of the East.

The number of immigrants coming to this country would be almost remarkable even in peaceable times. During the corresponding months, ending July 3d, 63,782 arrived at the port of New York alone. During the corresponding months of 1862 the arrivals at the same port were but 33,794.

A church in Prussia, holding one thousand persons, has been constructed entirely—stations and all—of paper mâché.

If this article hadn't been set up this column would be too short. So!

APPLETON, JULY 18.

DEMOCRATIC STATE CONVENTION.

A Convention of the Democracy of the State of Wisconsin will be held at the Capitol in Madison, on Wednesday, August 5th, 1863, at 12 o'clock, M., for the purpose of nominating candidates for State officers, and of transacting such other business as may properly come before the Convention. Each Senatorial and Assembly district will be entitled to two delegates.

All men in Wisconsin who are the unconditional friends of CIVIL LIBERTY and the AMERICAN CONSTITUTION, and who would preserve, protect, and defend them against all aggressions whether in peace or war, and all men determined to maintain the integrity and perpetuity of the American government established by the fathers of the republic, are earnestly enjoined to participate under this call in the selection of delegates and in the common effort of all patriots to give practical effect to these cherished principles of the democracy in the State of Wisconsin. CHAS. A. ELDREDGE,

Chairman State Central Committee

Democratic Convention—Senatorial.

A Democratic Convention, for the 22d Senatorial District, consisting of Outagamie, Oconto, Door, and Shawano, will be held at the Court House in the city of Appleton, on Wednesday the 29th day of July, at 2 o'clock, p. m., for the purpose of choosing two delegates to represent said District in the Democratic State Convention, to be held at Madison, on the 5th day of August next. Each County in said Senatorial District will be entitled to one delegate for each Senatorial Convention for every one thousand inhabitants and one for every fraction over five hundred, according to the last census.

July 2, 1863. By Order of Com.

Assembly Convention.

A Democratic Convention for the County of Outagamie, will be held at the Court House in the city of Appleton, on WEDNESDAY, THE 29TH DAY OF JULY, at 1 o'clock p. m., for the purpose of choosing two delegates to represent said County in the Democratic State Convention, to be held at Madison on the fifth day August next. Also, to choose seven delegates to represent said County in the next Senatorial Convention (22d district), to assemble at the call of the Senatorial Committee. Basis of representation same as last year.

July 9th, 1863. B. DOUGLAS, Ch'm.

By order of the Committee.

"A Vigorous Prosecution of Peace."

"Blessed are the peace makers, for they are the children of God."—Christ's Sermon on the Mount.

Thus spoke our Divine Master, eighteen hundred years ago, to the turbulent and fanatical spirits of that age. He speaks in the same spirit to-day to the whole universe. But, we verily believe, if He should descend into our midst at this time, and proclaim the same doctrines of peace and good-will to all mankind, Abolition-Republican bigots would shout: "Treason! Crucify Him! Copperhead!"

Ignorance, intolerance, fanaticism and bigotry, are always the characteristics of the crouching menials of some tyrant's will; ever the banditti to plot, in midnight retreats, against the rights of the people. This same spirit is always born in corruption, nurtured in villainy, and culminates in oppression. Small in its stock of healthy ideas, like the pharisee, it assumes a gravity and piety which is but a mockery to high heaven—a stench in the nostrils of virtue—a motionless mass of festering sores to all good ends. Sometimes you find it displayed behind the sacred desk on Sabbath, with sanctimonious countenance, invoking Divine guidance to pervert truth; again it flourishes in bar rooms, denouncing Holy Writ for teaching doctrines opposed to their peculiar political vagaries. It is easy to distinguish this class of would-be reformers. You will find them discoursing on the "rights of man," "disloyalty," "the poor slave," "downtrodden African," &c., on street corners, in alleys and brothels, "in season and out of season." Argument never crossed their personal threshold—reason never crossed their pathway—common sense never lingered by their side. Vituperation, slang, contumely, badinage, comprise their stock in trade. Their ideal of all that is supreme, lovely, virtuous and sublime, is a thing with curled wool, thick lips, ebony hue, and a flat nose. Their dictionary contains a collection of approbious epithets, Abe Lincoln, disloyalty, treason, nigger, copperhead, emancipation.

These thoughts convey but a faint picture of the present Abolition-Lincoln-Administration party. What wonder is it, then, that those who advocate Democratic principles come under their political proscription? What wonder that those who favor an honorable peace, with or without slavery, are stigmatized with abuse! This same Abolition party has trampled beneath the iron heel of despotism all Constitutional barriers for the protection of the people, has set at defiance all law not in accordance with their contracted ideas; has squandered millions to raise a besotted and inferior race, contrary to natural laws, to an equality with the Anglo Saxon; has been the means of slaughtering nearly a million of precious white men, uselessly; has practically disunited the greatest, best and most prosperous Nation the world ever witnessed; has invaded the sanctity of the home circle and ruthlessly torn husbands away from fainting wives; has quartered hordes of lazy officials in every section of the land to eat of the people's substance. Such is the Republican Party of to-day!

We are, therefore, in view of all the circumstances, in favor of a "vigorous prosecution of peace," on the basis of "the Union as it was, and the Constitution as it is." A peace that will be permanent, abiding, honorable, and that will suspend the further expenditure of blood and treasure. It has been fully demonstrated, under the present nigger policy of Lincoln's Administration, that we cannot conquer a peace by force of arms. Vide the following statistics, taken from the Extra change Commissioner's books prior to Grant's campaign:

"It is estimated that from the commencement of the war 53,874 federals have been killed, 117,029 wounded, 74,218 made prisoners, and 250,000 died from disease and wounds; that 50,894 confederates hase been killed, 129,615 wounded, 52,169 made prisoners, and 150,000 died from disease and wounds."

The population of the loyal states is about 20,000,000; that of the rebellious states 10,000,000. According to this estimate, a war of extermination—the most revolting spectacle in civilization—will kill and wound all but 10,000,000 in the whole Union! Are Republicans, even with their boasted love of the negro, (to the exclusion of all other subjects,) willing to wage such a war? If they are, demonstrations other than talking are now in order!

Let Democrats stand shoulder to shoulder in this hour "that tries men's souls," ready to sacrifice home, wife and little ones, for their liberties. Let no mob spirit obtain among the Democratic masses. Let them be jealous of their Liberties, obedient to Law, and energetic in preserving good Order. Our day of rejoicing is not far off. Already the skies are growing brighter, and the opponents of "the largest liberties to the masses," will soon be driven to the wall by the workings of a freeman's right—the ballot-box. God speed the glorious dawning of perpetual peace and the triumph of Democratic principles! "If this be treason, make the most of it!"

Terrible Riot in New York City!

A terrible anti-draft riot has been raging in city of New York during this week. It appears to have been an organizrd movement of the rabble, and their actions would intimate that the draft was made the excuse for their rascalities, for they have plundered and robbed as well as destroyed lives and property. The loss of life has been great. Sup't of Police Kennedy is reported killed, besides many citizens, who endeavored to suppress the row. Gov. Seymour at once went to the city and was exerting himself to bring the disgraceful riot to a close. We hope the villains will be punished as they deserve.

HOW THEY LOVE THE UNION!—M. D. Conway, one of the Editors of the Boston Commonwealth—a Charles Sumner organ—recently went to England on a secret mission from the Abolitionists. We verily believe he carried with him the good will and sympathy of Republican leaders generally. He distinguished himself in London a short time ago by writing to James M. Mason, "Rebel Commissioner," that if the rebel authorities would enter into bonds with some foreign power for the emancipaton of all their slaves, the Abolitionists, whom he represented, holding the balance of power, would compel the Gov't to close the war by withdrawing all supplies, &c., THUS ENSURING SOUTHERN INDEPENDENCE!! This but fulfills our predictions of the aims of the Republican party since its first inception. Mr. Conway is consistent with his party tenets and but speaks the feelings of nine-tenths of his political bedfellows. This correspondence was intended to have been kept secret, but Mr. Mason couldn't let slip the opportunity for crushing Union sympathy at the South, and accordingly gave the letters an airing through the Times. We have many instances at our own doors, where Republicans have said—"they didn't desire the Union restored, unless slavery was abolished!"

SLANG!—When Republicans are closely pressed for argument to fortify their political position, vulgarity and abuse are their natural resort. The Milwaukee Sentinel and Wisconsin, by their language, seem to hail with salvos of delight the opportunity afforded for this native talent in the terrible draft mob of New York City. These sheets have poured forth the vials of vituperation on Democrats generally, and Gov. Seymour particularly, for this great outrage. The probable cause of this riot is stated in an article, in another column, from the World. As soon as Gov. Seymour arrived in the city, accompanied by Mayor Opdyke (a Republican), he addressed the mob, urging them to desist in their mad course, and promised a fair enforcement of the draft. Democrats have always supported the constituted authorities, and we have no doubt will do so now, even though assailed by a corrupt and imbecile Sec'y of War, and a puling Administration. With the whole Democracy, we deprecate and abhor all defiance of law and order, whether it be in inciting a mob to seize a fugitive slave in charge of the U. S. officers at Milwaukie, or pillaging, burning and killing, to escape the Conscription Act in New York!

The New York Tribune has been sued for libel by George D. Allen, of Florida. Mr. A. claims 30,000 damages.

From the Milwaukee News.

Republican State Convention.

For men actuated by true patriotism and love of the Union no other state convention was required in Wisconsin than the one called by the democratic state committee. That call is broad enough to embrace all the friends of the government save only the partisan pottage.

The republican party state committee, composed of Messrs. RUBLEE, LOCKWOOD and others, have called a strictly party convention for the 19th of August. This committee is so contracted in its political views that it limits the convention to the partisan followers of the administration and to those hostile to all agencies for the suppression of the rebellion save the bloody sword. None are invited to participate save such as endorse the following propositions:

That the rebellion be suppressed, not by compromises with or concessions to traitors, but by the sword whose agency they have themselves invoked.

That the National Administration should be heartily and generously supported, in its efforts to put down the rebellion.

A party which knows no principles save such as its members are permitted by the administration to entertain and which refuses to resort to any other means, immediate or remote, for restoring peace to the country save by the sword, is not likely to receive any liberal support at this time.

The people are for compromises and concessions whenever they will avail to restore the Union and bring peace, and they will support the administration just so far as it uses right efforts to suppress the rebellion, but no farther. It would be madness, especially at this bright hour in the history of our arms, to pledge the state solely to the sword and against all measures for reconciliation which future circumstances may suggest. It would be equal madness for the people to bind themselves down to the present or future policy of the federal administration, as a platform on which to settle the destructive strife in which the nation is engaged. No patriot can consistly submit to this narrow and contracted partisan platform.

A Mysterious Draft.

The draft, which commences in this city to day and which is about to be enforced all over the North, promises to be a mysterious business. Instead of ordering a general conscription, and publicly apportioning the quotas to the several states, the administration has privately notified the several district provost-marshals, and the drafting has been begun without the knowledge or information of the public. We believe this secret way of doing business is common in Russia or Austria, but it is quite new in this free country.

So far we have no assurance that it is to be an equal conscription. From the number actually drafted in Rhode Island and Massachusetts, it would seem that the call was for 300,000 men: but the number required of the counties of Warren and Essex is on a basis of 400,000. According to the Tribune, the number New York city must raise is 26,000 and Brooklyn 10,000, which is conscripting at the rate of 600,000 for the whole North. Can it be that the administration has so much more confidence in New-York Copperheads than New England Republicans that it calls for more of the former than the latter? This is really a serious matter, and in the absence of any official announcement by the government of the number of men it requires, how do we know but what the secret instructions of the provost-marshals are to conscript heavily in the Democratic districts and lightly in the Republican districts?—N. Y. World.

The Aims of Abolitionism.

The Boston Commonwealth, the emancipation sheet which Conway claims to be the editor of, defines its position explicitly on the war question, It says:

"We neither expect, nor desire to see peace until the last link of the slave's chain is broken, the whole slave holding class stripped of their privileges, and their land divided among their former slaves, and the free emigrants from the North and from Europe."

From the Philadelphia Age.

A SPECIMEN OF THE RHETORIC OF OUR SECRETARY OF WAR.—At the late serenade given in Washington in congratulation on the victories of our gallant armies at Gettysburg and Vicksburg, to the different heads of the departments, Mr. Secretary Stanton indulged in the following flowery specimen of rhetoric:

"The sneaking Traitors and Copperheads of the North will be driven hissing to their holes."

This is, no doubt, judged very becoming in a Cabinet Minister, at a time when he is calling out three hundred thousand new men, irrespective of parties, to defend the country: but the question occurs, "What holes does he mean? Does he mean the dungeons of Fort Lafayette or Fort Warren, or the holes for which Mr. Lincoln is embarrassed to find pegs?"

THE PHILADELPHIA LOYAL LEAGUERS.—The Loyal Leagues of Philadelphia number 533 members:

Contractors	177
Officeholders	44
Administration editors	18
Those who support themselves:
Retired rich men	59
Bankers and brokers	22
Railroad and canal officers	10

Only seven to the crowd have done anything in the military way to put down the rebellion.

MORE RIOTS.—Boston Mass. and Troy, N. Y., were each disgraced this week by mobs growing out of the draft. They were suppressed after doing considerable damage. Shame on such outrages!

CHARLESTON ATTACKED!

GREAT RIOT IN N. Y.!

John Morgan on Another Raid in O.

The peace question has arisen in the Cabinet, Mr. Seward having proposed the offering of an amnesty to the people of the seceded States. The Cabinet is divided on the question. The President has as yet rendered no opinion, but it is thought that he will adhere to his emancipation proclamation. A number of prominent republicans have arranged a programme for a settlement, which was to have been submitted to Mr. Linclon Monday. Its main propositions are: That slavery shall cease in the whole country after 1876, and that a convention shall be called with the view of abolitionizing the constitution. It is reported that the object of Mr. Stephens' intended mission was to submit a plan of reconstruction from Jeff Davis,—the principal point being a dual Congress with a single President.

At last advices (5½ Saturday afternoon), part of Morgan's force were at Vernon, Ind., demanding its surrender; and the remainder—the main body—were being engaged by gunboats at Madison. More troops have responded to the call of Gov. Morton than we can use. A large number have marched in pursuit of the enemy. Martial law reigns in Indianapolis, and all business is suspended.

Later advices state that Morgan has done extensive damage to railroads and telegraphs: that his forces have penetrated to within a short distance of the Ohio line, and that Federal troops are in close pursuit of him.

The Legislature of North Carolina is now in extra session, and some of its members are reported to have come out for a reconstruction of the Union.—Gen. Hickman, commanding a Federal brigade, has made a highly successful expedition to the Washington and Weldon Railroad. He destroyed a considerable extent of the road, burned a large amount of rebel stores, and captured great numbers of horses, mules, negroes, and prisoners, besides a half a million dollars in Confederate currency.

European dates are to the 3d inst. A fire involving a loss of $1,000,000 has occurred in Liverpool. In Madagascar there has been a revolution,—the King being assassinated and his Ministers hung. It is reported that the Southern Confederacy has made overtures to Spain for recognition.—The Paris France (the Empress' organ) states that Admiral Forhait, who sailed for Vera Cruz June 23d, "carried instructions to Gen. Foray to issue a proclamation, immediately on arriving at the City of Mexico, to the effect that the French government will recognize the government of Mr. Jefferson Davis."

The Richmond papers say that on the 6th of July the captains among the Union prisoners in the Libby prison drew lots by order of General Winder for two of their number to be shot in retaliation for the shooting of Captains William F. Dorbin and T. J. McGraw by General Burnside at Sandusky, Ohio, on the 15th of May last. The first two names drawn, indicating those to be shot, were those of Captain Henry Washington Sawyer, of the First New Jersey cavalry, and of Captain John Flinn, of the Fifty-first Indiana Volunteers. The day of their execution had not been fixed.

It is rumored that Russia assents to to the essential points of the proposition of three powers regarding Poland, but the answer was not yet received.

Cairo, July 14.—An arrival from Vicksburg Saturday evening brought Col. John Riggin, of Grants staff, who is the bearer of dispatches to the Government.

The news is important. Port Hudson surrendered unconditionally on the 8th inst. Our troops marched in and took possession on the 9th. We captured the entire garrison, about 7,000 men, 35 field pieces, 25 seige guns, and about 10,000 stand of small arms. We have Maj.-Gen. Gardenr, Brig.-Gen. Beale, and Cols. Stedman, Milles, Smith, and one or two others, names unknown.

At the latest accounts Sherman was still pursuing Johnston, but that sagacious rebel had kept out of the way.

WAR DEPARTMENT, WASHINGTON,
Provost Marshal General's Office.
June 12, 1863.

Circular 14.—To answer the inquiries made to this office, it is announced, first, that any drafted person paying $300 under section 13 of the enrollment act, is thereby exempt from further service under that draft, but not from any subsequent draft.

Second. Any drafted person furnishing an acceptable substitute is exempt from military service for the period for which said substitute is mustered into service.

Third. A substitute once mustered into service cannot be drafted while in service.

4th. A drafted man cannot pay commutation or present a substitute after he has presented himself to the board of enrollment for exemption.

5th. Men who on the 3d day of March, 1863, were in the military service of the U. S. as substitutes under the draft of 1862, and whose terms of service have expired, are not liable to the present draft, but the persons for whom they were substituted are liable to draft the same as if they had not been drafted and furnished a substitute.

6th. In serving the notice as required by circular No. 42 from this office, a reasonable time to report shall in each case be granted by the board of enrollment to the men in the State service who have been or may be drafted.

(Signed.) JAS. B. FRY, P. M. G.

Buffalo, July 15.—Vallandigham arrived at the Clifton House, Canada, at 4 o'clock this morning.

Headquarters Army of the Potomac, July 14.—The officers report that they captured about 20,000 prisoners, two guns, several caissons and a stand of colors.

This morning, at Falling Waters, the following estimate has been made by competent officers, of Lee's losses since crossing the Potomac: 5,000 killed, 9,000 wounded and prisoners, 9,500 uninjured prisoners.

It is known that 6,000 wounded have since been carried over the river. Desertions will probably reach 3,000, making a total loss of not less than 33,000.

New York, July 15.—We understand the retreat of Lee's army is now in rout, and its spirit is utterly broken. This places it at a disposal of the federal Government.

Cincinnati, July 14.—The excitement in this city yesterday, was at fever heat. Martial law was more stringently enforced, and our citizens in every district were actively on the alert, enrolling themselves under the militia law, drilling, &c. No business whatever has been transacted, and all classes of citizens of every degree, have been parading under arms all day.

Morgan, after he left Venice, moved on the C. H. & Dayton Railroad, at Glendale, through Reading and across Little Miami Railroad, between Miamiville and Loveland.

Their advance skirmishers fired into a passenger train at 7 o'clock this morning. The engineer put on more steam and went on at a rapid speed half a mile, when he ran upon an obstruction, overturning the locomotive, killing the fireman and injuring the engineer severely. The cars passed on a few yards on the bed of the road, but were not upturned. None of the passengers were injured. The rebels came up and took 200 militia who were en route for Camp Dennison prisoners, paroled them, and burned five cars. The passengers footed it to Camp Dennison four miles. The track was not torn up nor any bridge burned.

CINCINNATI, July 14.—Morgan's forces crossed the Big Miami at Venice last night and burned the bridge behind them, passing through Burlington and Springdale. They crossed the Hamilton & Dayton Railroad at Glendale at six o'clock this morning, moving towards Camp Denison. It is not known that any damage was done at Glendale or to Hamilton, on the Dayton road. The main body of Bragg's army retreated from Chattanooga to Atlanta. It is presumed that the bulk of his forces were sent to Richmond to garrison that place. Rosecrans has taken four thousand prisoners during the late forward movement. Our army is in high spirits and splendid condition.

The Commercial has Vicksburg advices to the eighth. Gen. Grant had finished parolling rebel prisoners. They numbered 31,277. The general officers captured include Lieut. Gen. Pemberton, Maj. Gens. Stephenson, Forney, Bowen, and Smith, and Brig. Gens. Lee, Taylor, Hurbut, Cummings, Burton, Sharp, Harris, Moor, Baldwin, and Vaughan.

Immediately after the surrender of Vicksburg General Sherman moved in the direction of Big Black River with a large army. On the following day he met Johnston drawn up in line of battle. A sanguinary engagement took place, resulting in Johnson's defeat and capture of two thousand prisoners.

Cincinnati, July 15.—Morgan reached Georgetown, Brown Co., at midnight. He is pretty well hemmed in, his chances for escape are very slight. Gunboats and large forces went up the river yesterday to dispute his crossing. The Ohio river is too high to ford.

Fort Monroe, July 11.—The gunboat Union, just arrived from Charleston bound for New York, reports all of Morris' Island captured except Fort Wayne.

The enemy's loss in killed, wounded and prisoners is between 700 and 800.

The attack was commenced on last Friday morning. The Union left Monday afternoon, at which time the seige of Fort Wayne was progressing with every prospect of a speedy capture.

Five Monitors were engaged.

San Francisco July. 11.—Shanghai dates to the 22d of May are received. The British troops were about to depart for Japan. Dates from Nagasaki, Japan, of the 14th of May, says the Prince of Santzum had collected a large force in that vicinity. It is feared he would attack the foreign settlements. Business is suspended. Foreign merchants are settling their accounts and sending their property on shipboard.

New York, July 14.—Gov. Seymour has issued a proclamation stating that the riotons demonstration originated in opposition to the conscription and has swelled to vast proportions. He says he knows many would not have gone to such extremes unless apprehensive of injustice, but reminds them that the only opposition which can be allowed is an appeal to the courts, and the right to appeal will be maintained, and the decision of the courts must be respected.

The riotous proceedings must and shall be put down, the laws of the State must be enforced, peace and order maintained, and lives and property protected.

He then calls on the rioters to retire, declaring he will use all necessary power to restore order.

Hundreds of wild reports and rumors are flying about the city, many of which are exaggerations. The facts alone are bad enough.

Col. O'Brien was captured by the fiends and beaten to a jelly and then hung to a lamp post on the corner of Thirty-fourth street and second Avenue.

New York July 15—This P. M. the mob again collected in 3d street near where a negro was hanging. Failing to discern them a howitzer was trained upon them, loaded with canister. The first discharge wiped out 40. Two more discharges increased the number to twenty-two, when the villians skedaddled.

Two negroes were killed this p. m., one on pier No. 4, and the other in Washington street. The colored people are fleeing the city in all directions.

The street from 6th to 7th avenues with men, women and children. Fifteen minutes was given for the men to clear the street. No one stirred, and at the expiration of the time allowed, the artillery, located with canister of the time allowed, the artillery, located with canister opened, and fired five rounds. A great many were hurt, but it is not known how many. Having dispersed the mob from the vicinity, the firemen checked the flames. At last accounts the military had arrived at the scene and a fight has probably occurred.

LATEST!—The great draft riot in N. Y., thanks to the energy of Gov. Seymour, is practically at an end.—Andrews, the leader, has been arrested and placed in Fort Lafayette. Hundreds have been injured and many killed. Thousands of dollars in property has been destroyed. Arch-Bishop Hughes is doing everything to induce the mob to return to lawful avocations.

New Lisbon, Wis July 14th.—A terrible affair occured in the vicinity of New Lisbon, Juneau County, yesterday. It appears that a party of five or six Indians came to the house of Mr. Salter and demanded some whisky. Mr. S. was absent at the time. His wife, being alone in the house, refused the demand, whereupon the inhuman savakes attacked her with knives, killing her almost instantly. They then, helped themselves to whatever liquor they could find in the house and departed.

Later in the day Mr. Salter returned home, when, to his horror, he found the dead body of his wife lying across the threshhold, and a few rods from the house was one of the Indians lying in a drunken stupor. Mr. S. immediately dispatched the Indian, and by this time the neighborhood was aroused and an immediate search was made for the remainder of the party, but as yet, I believe, no clue has been obtained as to their whereabouts.

The affair has created excitement and alarm in Juneau County.

Gen Pope has taken prompt measures for protecting the citizens from futher outrages.

The Watchword of Daniel Webster.

Daniel Webster—the "defender of the constitution"—was the real author of the phrase now everywhere inscribed upon democratic banners—"The constitution as it is—the Union as it was." Our readers will find recorded on the 138th page of Benton's Thirty years, Vol. 1, the following words, spoken in the Wisconsin controversy:

The Union itself is full of benefit to be hazarded in propositions for changing its original basis. I go for the constitution as it is the Union as it is.

AMALGAMATION A PLANK IN THE REPUBLICAN PLATFORM.—WENDELL PHILLIPS in his speech at Framingham, Mass., on the 4th of July, thus openly announced the new plank in the republican platform:

Remember this, the youngest of you, that on the 4th day of July, 1863, you heard a man say, that in the light of all history, in virtue of every page he ever read, he was an amalgamationist to the utmost extent. (Applause.) I have no hope for the future, as this country has no past and Europe has no past, but in that sublime mingling of the races, which is God's own method of civilizing and elevating the world.—(Loud applause.)

What do the white mothers and fathers, whether native or foreign born, say to this doctrine? Dare the approaching Republican State Convention repudiate it?

BARKSDALE, the rebel general who fell at Gettysburg; is the same Barksdale whose wig was pulled off by Potter in a bit of a fight in the House of Representatives. The southern members of congress generally have taken the field, and many of them have lost their lives in battle. Not so with the northern abolitionists. Potter, Lovejoy, Sumner, Wilson and Chandler, all enjoy their ease at home. Potter once enlisted but never went. Wilson ate a huge dinner in New York as a Massachusetts colonel, but abandoned his regiment when he reached Washington. The few democratic members in congress are largely represented in the field. Larrabee, Logan, McClernand, and men of that class were among the first to enlist.—Mil. News.

MR. LINCOLN'S BODY-GUARD.—It is lamentably true that the President has fallen into the habit of riding about Washington under an armed escort of cavalry. His carriage is constantly preceded and followed by a force of horsemen large enough to attract attention in a military European capital, and much larger than the average body of a commanding general actually in the field.

HENRY ENOS, son of J. J. Enos, of Watertown, has been appointed a Midshipman in the Naval School at Newport R. I., on the recommendation of Hon. I. C. Sloan, Member of Congress from this district.—Madison Journal.

THE IRON BRIGADE.—Of the 1,850 men, comprising the "Iron Brigade," who went into the fight at Gettysburg, 728 were killed or wounded and 400 more were unaccounted for on the following day. The brigade is composed of the 2d, 6th and 7th Wisconsin, 19th Indiana and 24th Michigan.

THE Springfield Republican states that Solomon Sturgis, the wealthiest man in Chicago, passed through that city on Thursday, on his way to the Hartford Asylum—a raving maniac, in charge of three keepers. During the first year of the war he made a million dollars

DIED.

In the Town of Grand Chute on the 7th inst. Miss EMMA J. GILLETT, aged 27.

In the same town on the 14th inst., COLLINS H., infant son of Collins and Emma J. Gillett, aged 11 days.

Mrs. Gillett was a woman beloved by the entire neighborhood in which she lived. She was the light of the household, the joy of her family circle. She leaves an agonized husband and little ones, together with a large circle of friends and acquaintances to mourn her loss. Her funeral was largely attended in sympathizing friends. She sleeps in the grave, but the memory of her virtues will long live in the heart of those who knew her best.

It has long been the aim of physicians to find a combination of medicines having the requisite stimulating and tonic properties to relieve and cure the common complaints of Biliousness Liver complaint, Languor, Headache, Dizziness, Loss of appetite, Indigestion, Jaundice, Fever and Ague, &c., which are the common accompaniments of this climate. The remedy has been discovered by Dr. Roback, and in hundreds of cases the merits of these bitters have been tested in the above complaints and there is but one voice from the people, and that is in favor of these truly wonderful Stomach Bitters. We advise all who are afflicted and need a reliable tonic for the troubles above mentioned, to commence at once using these Bitters. See advertisement.

OUTAGAMIE COUNTY COURT—IN PROBATE.

In the matter of the proof of an instrument purporting to be the last will and testament of Powers, deceased.

On reading and filing said instrument and petition of Hannah Powers, praying among other things that said instrument may be proved, it is ordered that the same be proved before said County Court at the office of the Judge thereof, in Appleton on the 30th day of July, A. D. 1863, at 1 o'clock p. m., of said day. And it is further ordered that notice hereof be given to all persons interested in said matter by publishing a copy of this order in the Appleton Crescent, a newspaper published weekly in Appleton, in said County, for three successive weeks prior to said day.

Appleton June 24th, 1863. GEO. H. MYER, County Judge.

I certify the above to be a true copy of the original order now on file in this office. GEO. H. MYER, County Judge.

Ladies Soldier's Aid Society.

At a meeting of the Ladies Soldier's Society of the City of Appleton, held July 10th 1863, the following Resolutions were adopted

Resolved, That the thanks of this Society are hereby tendered to Judge A L Collins of Menasha, for his liberal donation of twenty five dollars on the 4th of July for the benefit of the sick and wounded Soldiers of our country also, to all others for substantial pecuniary aid and great assistance in making the occasion of the 4th attractive to all

Resolved further that we thank all the patriotic men and women of this section of country for the kind and short notice in enabling us with the contributions made at the Picnic in raising over one hundred dollars above expenses at our impromptu Festival of July 4th and that we earnestly desire still larger contributions for the benefit of the Brave Boys who peril health limb and life for the preservation of this great Republic

Resolved That copys of these resolutions be sent for publication in the city papers

☞ Jackson Tibbits, Esq raised the flag on the Park Gate for the Ladies Soldiers Aid Society

☞ The Ladies express great satisfaction for the aid given them by Mr Francis Hammond in providing them with lumber, &c for their efforts to aid the sick and wounded in the Army

☞ STRAWBERRY PROPHET —Mr Judd of the Agriculturist has won triumph in his show of strawberries last week As an exhibition it is pronounced by competent judges superior to any seen in Europe The palm was borne by a new variety, which is produced by the skill of an amateur Seth Boyden, Esq of Newark It is a seedling and was produced by first combining Ketley's Goliah with Hovey's Seedling, the product of which is named the Green Prolific Then the Green Prolific is in like manner combined with Peabody's Seedling and the product is a berry which is at once vastly prolific and of unequal size, fifteen of them making a pound weight Mr Judd has secured all the plants, and placed them on his farm for propogation intending, as soon as he has plants enough, to send one to each subscriber of the Agriculturist who shall express the wish to receive it The affair shows the rapid progress of scientific horticulture in this country

My Drops to cure suppression of the Menses, from whatever cause, though care should be taken to ascertain if pregnancy be the cause, as these Drops would be sure to produce miscarriage; they will also certainly prevent conception, if taken two or three days before the usual period; therefore, I wish it distinctly understood, that I do not hold myself responsible when used under such circumstances.

I could furnish any quantity of testimonials of its efficacy from my own patients, but the practice of parading bought and fictitious ones before the public is so prevalent I do not deem it advisable. My object is to place my medicine before the public, not alone to make money, but to do good. It is proverbially true of the American Ladies, that not ten perfectly healthy ones can be found in any one vicinity.

Tell your afflicted friend what restored the bloom of health to your cheeks, and thereby confer a favor more valuable than gold. For painful or scanty Menstruation it is just the thing. I have now in my mind an instance of a lady who had been suffering from painful menstruation two or three years, confining her to her room each time; she had applied to several eminent physicians, without relief, when one bottle of my Drops entirely cured her.

Prudence and Economy, as well as good management, urges the wisdom of insurance when a most reliable kind is obtainable at fair rates and rules.

In this important matter the first essential is to secure the best, and the Management of the Ætna deserve especially maintaining integrity for sterling business qualities in the future as the past, confidently looking for reward in a greater appreciation and preference from property owners.

LOOK TO QUALITY

As a paramount consideration, reverse the rule making a low arte of premium the chief essential: for the cheapest rate is too frequently only an index of the poorest insurance.

As our rates are graduated by the law of compensation, after ample experience, the propriety of Insurance extends with equal force to the safer classes of property it does to those of a more hazardous nature. The safer the risk the lower the percentage—the greater the hazard the higher the premium. So protect your property by a good policy from the Ætna. 10c1

Singer & Co.'s Letter 'A' Family Sewing Machine!

With All the Recent Improvements

Is the best and cheapest and most beautiful of all Sewing Machines. The Machine will sew anything from the running of a tuck in Parlean to the making of an Overcoat—anything from Pillow Beres to cloth down to the soft Fabric of Gossamer Tissue, and is ever ready to do its work to perfection. It can fell, hem, bind, gather, tuck, quilt, and has capacity for a great variety of ornamental work. This is not the only machine that can fell, hem, bind, &c., but it will do so better than any other machine. The letter A Family Sewing Machine may be had in great variety of cabinet cases. The Folding Case which is now becoming so popular, is as its name implies, one that can be folded into a box or case, which, when opened, makes a beautiful, substantial, and spacious table for the work to rest upon. The cases are of every imaginable design—plain as the wood grew in its native forest, or as elaborately finished as art can make them. Send for a copy of

The Early Physical Degeneracy of American People.

Just Published by Dr. A. Stone, Physician to the Troy Lung and Hygienic Institute.

A Treatise on the causes of early physical decline of American people; the cause of nervous debility, consumption and Marasmus.

This work is one of high moral tone, written in chaste and thrilling language, and appeals directly to the moral consciousness of all parents and guardians especially, detailing scientific and reliable aids and treatment for cure. It will be sent by mail on the receipt of two (3) cent stamps.

☞ Parents and Guardians! fail not to send and obtain this book. ☜ Young Men! fail not to send and get the book. ☜ Ladies! You too should at once secure a copy of the book.

A Word of Solemn Conscientious Advice to those who will be neglected.

A class of maladies prevail to a fearful extent in the community, dooming at least 100,000 youth of both sexes annually, to an early grave. Those diseases are very imperfectly understood. Their external manifestation, or symptoms are nervous debility, relaxation and exhaustion; nausea, loss or wasting and consumption of the whole body; shortness of breathing or hurried breathing on ascending a hill or flight of stairs; great palpitation of the heart; asthma, bronchitis and sore throat, sinking of the hands and limbs; aversion to society and to business or study; dimness of eye sight, loss of memory, dizziness of the head, neuralgia, pain in various parts of the body; lumbago, dyspepsia or indigestion, &c.

Now in ninety nine cases out of every one hundred, all the above named disorders, and a host of others not named, is consumption of the lungs and that most insidious and wily form of consumption of the spinal nerves, known as Tabes Dorsalis, and tubes mesenteria, have their seat and origin in diseases of the pelvic viscera.

Dr. Andrew Stone, Physician to the Troy Lung and Hygienic Institution, is now engaged in treating this class of modern maladies with the most astonishing success. The facilities of cure are sure that patients can be cured at homes, in any part of the country, from accurate descriptions of their case, by letter; and have the medicines sent by Mail or express. Printed interrogatories will be forwarded on application.

☞ Consumption, catarrh and diseases of the throat cured as well at the home of the patients as at the Institution, by sending the cold medicated Inhaling Balsamic Vapors, with inhaler and ample directions for their use, and direct correspondence.

☞ Patients applying for interrogatives or advice, must enclose return stamps, to meet attention.

☞ The attending physician will be found at the Institution for consultation, from 9 a. m. to 9 p. m., each day. Sunday in the forenoon. Address

ANOTHER was cured of Fever Sore which had existed fourteen years.

ANOTHER of the manufacture of Sole years' Cases immeasurable in testimonials I have. Complaint could be mentioned for which the Purifier and Pills

Work like a Charm.

The Blood Pills

are the most active and thorough pills that have ever been introduced.

They act so directly on the Liver, exciting that organ to such an extent as that the system does not relapse into its former condition, which is too apt to be the case with simply a purgative pill.

They are really a

Blood and Liver Pill, which, in conjunction with the Blood Purifier,

will cure all the aforementioned diseases and, of themselves, will relieve and cure

Headache,	Colds,
Colic Pains,	Chronic Diarrhœa,
Indigestion,	Piles,
	Dizziness,

Try these medicines, and you will never regret it.

Ask your neighbors who have used them and they will say they are

Good Medicines,

and you should try them before going for a physician.

Get a Pamphlet or Almanac of the Agent, and read the certificates, and if you have ever doubted you will Doubt no more.

As a proof that the Blood Purifier and Pills are purely vegetable, I have the certificates of Professors Agassiz, Holmes, Dr. Jackson, Professors Chilton of the Medical College, and others, published in a compliment to the Faculty of Harvard University.

Read Dr. Roback's Special Notice in another column.

THE HEROES OF PEACE AND
THE HEROES OF WAR.

E. ANTHONY, No. 501 BROADWAY, NEW YORK, is now publishing, in addition to other portraits, the celebrated collection known in Europe and America as in which is included portraits of nearly all the prominent men of America, not excepting Jeff Davis, General Beauregard, Floyd, and a host of other confederates. Price of portraits $3 per dozen. Can be sent by mail.

SCENES OF THE WAR FOR THE UNION,

are published, card size, and in stereoscopic form.

Also, Stereoscopic Views of Scenes in Paris, London, and England and France; in Scotland, Ireland, Wales, Holland, Switzerland, Spain, on the Rhine, in Athens, Egypt, Turkey, the Holy Land, China, India Cuba, &c., &c., ad infinitum.

☞ OUR INSTANTANEOUS STEREOSCOPIC VIEWS are the greatest wonder of the age.

These are taken in the fortieth part of a second, and the rushing of water, the moving of vehicles, or the march of an army, does not in the slightest degree affect the taking of these views. They are sold for $3 per dozen.

We have also on hand and manufacture the largest assortment of Stereoscopes, Photographic Albums, and in the United States, and perhaps in the world.

Photographic Materials,

CATALOGUES, containing lists of all our portraits, Stereoscopes, Views, &c., will be sent free by mail, on receipt of stamp. E. ANTHONY, 501 BROADWAY, PAIN CURED!

RADWAY'S READY RELIEF

Is the true Important medicinal curative—for the immediate relief of the sufferer—of all varieties of PAIN, ACHES and INFIRMITIES, and the prompt cure of the sick whose PAIN, either internal or external, is a concomitant of the disease, that have ever been discovered.

IN A FEW MINUTES

After the application of the READY RELIEF according to standard direction literally, the patient, suffering with the most excruciating PAINS, ACHES, CRAMPS, RHEUMATISM, NEURALGIA, GOUT, LUMBAGO, CHILLS AND AGUE, SPASMS, SORE THROAT, INFLUENZA, DIPTHERIA, CONGESTION or INFLAMMATION, will enjoy ease and comfort

RADWAY'S READY RELIEF

Is safer to take than any and will stop pain quicker, than all preparations of Opium, Morphine, Valerian, Hyoscyamus, Arnica, Valerian, Chloroform or Ether, under whatever name; stimulants, such either Liniments, Pain Killers or Soothing Lotions would merely suspend the feeling of pain by its stimulating and perverting frenzies and killing the nerves. These agents eliminates Chloroform, Opium, &c., to render it safe to the nerves of persons—RADWAY'S READY RELIEF stops the most excruciating pain, and secures the patient the full possession of his senses. This is the only remedy in general use that will stop pain, so quick, that is free from Opium, Morphine, or some other similar drug, hurtful to the general health.

BE WISE IN TIME.

Guard against sickness. On the first indication of pain or uneasiness, fill up the STOMACH or BOWELS, take a teaspoonful of the READY RELIEF in a wineglass of water. If in the LIMB
